

The Supreme Court has ruled that consumers have fair use rights. Mandating copy protection will remove those rights, and therefore should not be mandated or allowed. In fact, rules SHOULD be put in place to guarantee consumers rights since they will be paying a premium for HDTV equipment and services.